Probably that is why Cheboksary was acknowledged the most improved city of Russia in the 2001. It's amazing how architectural and cultural monuments belonging to different periods of Russian history coexist in Cheboksary. The oldest building of Cheboksary is the Presentation Cathedral, which was erected in the 17th century. Today it is considered the main functional cathedral in Chuvashia. The statue of the Mother and Patroness of the Chuvash people admires by its size and monumentality. This sculpture was created in the 2003. The height of the monument is 46 meters, which far exceeds all other monuments in the city. Cheboksary has quite many interesting museums, which include the Chuvash National Museum and the Museum of V.I. Chapaev, as well as the Museum of History and the Museum of beer.
